

Crying in the Dark

Expressions

Use speech balloons and an illustration in each of the boxes below to capture some of the expressions of characters in this story.

For example: You could do the dog's joyful face with a speech balloon explaining how he feels to be reunited with his family! Or perhaps the little girl's excited face and her words when she first saw Timmy again. Anne and Bob's expressions when they discovered the dog or when worried about finding his owners could also make a good picture with a speech balloon to explain their feelings.
