

Bill and the Kitten

The Pet's Perspective

Bill's kitten seems very happy with her owner. Wouldn't it be interesting to know how your pet feels about you! If you don't have a pet, consider how an animal in the zoo or in the wild might feel about humans.

Write an article about it. Try to 'become' one of those animals (pet, zoo or wild) and compose a piece to be included in an 'Animals Only' magazine. Let's pretend it is called 'Pet's Perspective' and gives animals the opportunity to write about their owners or about how people treat them.

For example:

- A Letter from Liza Lizard complaining about children who think it is funny to pull off the tails of skinks. It really hurts!
- Diggity Dog suggesting families with kids make the best homes for dogs as there is always someone to play with.
- Garth Gorilla writing a funny description of the weird and wacky faces that stare at him day after day in the zoo. He can't believe how ugly some people are!

Animal: _____

Pet, Zoo or Wild? _____

My article is about: _____