

Worksheet 2

The Pied Piper

Design a Cartoon Strip

Use these conversations in the table below to design a cartoon strip of the story. Use speech bubbles in your comic strip to show what each character is saying. A speech bubble is when you draw a large circle coming out of the character's mouth and the words they speak are inside it.

- Mayor's Wife: You must do something about the rats!
Mayor: And so I shall, my dear.
- Town Elders: Our beautiful town is too good for you.
Pied Piper: Perhaps I can be of service.
- Mayor: You shall have your money.
Pied Piper: Just remember what you have promised.
- The Pied Piper starts to play his pipe and the rats follow him out of town.
- Pied Piper: The rats have gone.
Townspeople: Three cheers for our mayor!
- Pied Piper: It's time to honour our agreement.
Mayor: Agreement? What agreement?
- The Pied Piper starts to play his pipe and the children follow him out of town.
- Townspeople: Please give us back our children!
Pied Piper: It is too late, you should have paid the piper!
