

WHAT'S THAT SMELL?

Word Work

Types of Words

Now you have read "What's that smell?", can you work on the words in the story?

You will remember that words come in different types. The most common are nouns (the names of things), verbs (words for actions) and adjectives (describing words). Here is an example:

My pet cat (noun) thinks (verb) that sardines are delicious (adjective).

Here are words from the story, all mixed up. Can you put them in the correct columns below?

bad best breakfast brother call eat disgusting family filled fresh king nice night ran rotten said sister smell stink table very wanted worse yelled

NOUN

VERB

ADJECTIVE

